Morgan's Page

The lights were low when I stepped out in front of the cameras with the Barron Collier graduating class of 2016. My friends gave speeches, the principal said some vague words of encouragement regarding our futures, and we walked across the stage. My dad, a teacher at the school, was the one to hand me my diploma. The tassels were turned, and I began as a Barron Collier alum, and a college student heading to Florida Gulf Coast University to major in Environmental Engineering.

My summer was almost as busy as the school year had been. I had entered in a two week long photo class sponsored by the Artis of Naples, where students were instructed by a college professor and had pieces chosen by the museum to be placed in a show. I also took several jobs doing pet-sitting and dog walking, and volunteered with a positive reinforcement dog trainer with the Lucky Dog Company.

After the photo class, my summer seemed short. I went to orientation, which was incredible, albeit exhausting. I bought a groupon for two unlimited weeks of aerial yoga classes at the fabulous House of Flyte, which I became addicted to after the first class. Pet-sitting still directed my daily activities, but I managed to start volunteering at Bargain Box, a local church-owned thrift store, with my friend, Laila, for the third year in a row.

Now, my family is planning a vacation: a cruise to the Bahamas before I leave in August. I plan on continuing to volunteer and pet-sit until I move in, and I'm looking forward to an incredible freshman year. Luckily, FGCU is nearby, so I can still visit my corgi and toller babies!
